

Indie AUTHOR DAY

Applications for Indie Author Day must be filled out and submitted online at www.andersonlibrary.org by October 9, 2020. Those selected to participate will be notified no later than October 21, 2020.

For questions regarding the day and the application contact us at adultprograms@andersonlibrary.org

Rules of Participation:

1. Authors must be published either traditionally or independently.
2. Authors from the upstate South Carolina area will be given priority consideration but are not guaranteed attendance. Authors from surrounding areas are encouraged to apply.
3. Authors must provide a secure website address such as Amazon where their book(s) can be purchased.
4. Materials must fall in line with the Anderson County Library System's Mission Statement in regards to content and accessibility of materials.
5. The participant selection will be curated from a pool of applicants. Applications must be submitted by 11:59 pm on Friday, October 9, 2020. You will be contacted by October 21, 2020 if your application has been accepted.
6. The library reserves the right to accept or refuse any application at its discretion.

Below is an example of how you would be featured on our social media channels if accepted. The order in which you are featured will be random. The website links where customers can purchase your books will be in the comments of the social media post and on the Indie Author Day webpage.

What Is Not Yours Is Not Yours by Helen Oyeyemi

Helen Oyeyemi's tales span multiple times and landscapes as they tease boundaries between coexisting realities. Is a key a gate, a gift, or an invitation? What Is Not Yours Is Not Yours captivates as it explores the many possible answers.

Circe by Madeline Miller

With unforgettably vivid characters, mesmerizing language and page-turning suspense, Circe is a triumph of storytelling, an intoxicating epic of family rivalry, palace intrigue, love and loss, as well as a celebration of indomitable female strength in a man's world.
